BRIEF BIO

Although Amber Jewell experienced neglect, abuse, and long-term trauma as a child, she refuses to let her story end there! She shares her journey to give hope and to provide specific ways that each of us can change lives in moments that matter.

As a licensed master social worker, Amber has over 15 years of experience working with youth and families in child protective services, education, and mental health services.

Having been a foster child, a foster parent, and a social worker, Amber has a multi-dimensional understanding of the issues involved.

Amber has confidence in the power of any person to plant good seeds in the lives of those they serve and educate. Amber motivates and challenges others to find strength in the skills they can use to make a difference.

Amber Jewell uses research, compassion and laughter to provide her audience with fresh hope.
